PROJECTS

Full-Stack Developer (Project-Based Experience)

Skill Set | skill-set-app.vercel.app

August 2024 – Present

- Developed a single-page web application using React for the front-end, coupled with a RESTful API built with Node.js, Express, and MongoDB for the back-end.
- Designed and implemented API endpoints for handling CRUD operations, enabling dynamic data handling and a seamless user experience.
- Leveraged MongoDB for data storage, implementing efficient data modelling and indexing to support scalable performance.
- Integrated the front-end and back-end using Express, managing API requests and responses for smooth interaction across the application.
- Used Git and GitHub for version control and collaborated on the project workflow, maintaining a clean and organized codebase.
